Meet our Students

“I am a PhD student in the Discipline of Health promotion with support from Indonesia Endowment Fund for Education (LPDP), Ministry of Financial Indonesia. I always had an interest in human behaviours and being in Galway, enables me to not only observe but also experience a different culture, different lifestyles with different impact to health. I never doubted that I would enjoy my time in Galway and Ireland since I first arrived in the country back in April.

A walkable and vibrant city surrounded with green open spaces and a rural landscape. I see Galway as a city with unlimited potential to develop in the future. I am honoured to be a part of this development.”
