A Guide for Malaysian Students

Founded in 1845, Ollscoil na Gaillimhe – University of Galway is one of Ireland’s oldest and largest universities. University of Galway is an international university with global ambition, but with deep roots in Galway City and the West of Ireland – a region renowned for its unique culture, creative industries, marine ecology, medical technologies and innovation.

The University’s main Galway campus covers over 105 hectares of land along the river Corrib. The campus is home to world-leading teaching and research facilities across the sciences, social sciences and humanities, delivered through four colleges, 19 Schools and five Research Institutes - Data Science Institute (DSI), Ryan Institute, Whitaker Institute for Innovation and Societal Change, Institute for Lifecourse and Society, Moore Institute for Research in the Humanities and Social Studies – and a range of research centres and clusters.

With over 4,000 international students and 480 international staff from 122 countries, University of Galway contributes greatly to the diversity and dynamism of Galway City and the West of Ireland as a region.

Meet Our Students

“The emphasis on the theory is one important component that I love in University of Galway. Having a strong foundation in pre-clinical phase is essential before starting the clinical years.

Besides that, peaceful environment in Galway is one of the main traits that made Galway stand out from the others as the best place to study! If I had to describe Irish culture in 3 words; they would be ‘unique’, ‘well-preserved’ and ‘proud’ and Galway in 3 words; peaceful, friendly and unpredictable.’
