

Dr Benjamin Schmid, BA., M.Sc., PhD

School of Geography, Archaeology and Irish Studies, National University of Ireland, Galway

Dr Benjamin Schmid is a Postdoctoral Researcher working within the Geography Group at the School of Geography, Archaeology and Irish Studies at NUI Galway.

Benjamin is currently engaged in the Horizon 2020 project, EnergyPROSPECTS (2021-2024). In this project he is investigating energy citizenship, that is forms of civic involvement that pertain to the development of a more sustainable and democratic energy system. Before joining NUI Galway, he worked as a research associate at Zurich University for Applied Sciences ZHAW (Switzerland) for the Horizon 2020 project SONNET on social innovation in the energy system. In his dissertation at the University of Bern and the Swiss Federal Research Institute WSL (ETH Domain), he investigated energy cooperatives in Switzerland and their interrelations with municipalities as part of a project of the SNF – National Research Program 71. He has a background in political science, economics, and sustainability science. Benjamin's research interests are in the governance of the energy transition considering the role of citizens and civil society initiatives.
