GENERAL NOTES ON HISTORY MODULES

- We are pleased that you have chosen to do History modules during your year abroad. We would like to welcome you and hope you have a wonderful experience here in Galway.
- Module Choice: Please check with our webpage for up-to-date syllabus and timetables. You may choose from both the 2nd year and Final year list of modules.
- There are a limited number of places for visiting students on Final year Seminar modules (offered in Sem. 1 only) and 2nd Year Colloquia (offered in Sem. 2 only). Please note the special registration procedures for these modules below.
- Other than the Seminars and the Colloquia, there are no restrictions on visiting student numbers registering for History lecture modules (5 ECTS modules). However, there are overall caps for lecture modules, so you are encouraged to register as soon as possible to maximise your chances of getting the modules you want.
- Module Registration (Online for Lecture modules (5ects) See below for Seminars and Colloquia)
 - a. You do not need to get approval from the History department for lecture modules (5 ECTS) that you want to take. Do note, however, that you DO need approval from History if you want to do a Seminar or Colloquium (see below).
 - b. There is no "audit" type registration in University of Galway. If you register for a module, we have to return a mark for you. If you do not want to be assessed for a module (you just want to sit in and don't intend to use it in fulfilment of your year abroad obligations), ask the lecturer for permission.
- Module Assessment: Unless otherwise indicated, assessment for lecture modules consists of a mid-term essay/coursework worth 33% and a final exam worth 67%. Note that Seminars & Colloquia have a different marking scheme and different weighting than the other modules.
- Module Descriptions: Module Descriptions are available on the University of Galway History web page. Go to the Visiting Students Information page at <http://www.universityofgalway.ie/history/>. There is a link to the descriptions on this page.
- History Department Contacts:

VISITING STUDENTS APPLICATION TO TAKE SEMINARS

What is a Seminar?

Seminars (final year) carry double weighting (10 ECTS). They are small group teaching modules and have a mandatory attendance requirement. Students are expected to participate orally during classes, prepare presentations and write an extended research essay for assessment. Final year Seminars are not to be chosen lightly, and they are not recommended for students who are not majoring in History or a 'Liberal Arts' subject in their home universities.

Applying for a Seminar

There are a maximum of three places for visiting students on each Seminar. To obtain a place on a Seminar:

- Speak to or e-mail the module convenor (lecturer) about the seminar beforehand to ascertain whether the module will suit you and whether there are any areas of concern.
- If the module convenor gives you a place on the seminar, s/he will inform Helena Condon who will add you to the list and complete your registration.
