

Dr McGinty did her medical training at the University of Galway and then came to the USA for residency at the University of Pittsburgh where she was Chief Resident. Her fellowship was in Women's Imaging at the Massachusetts General Hospital. While working at Montefiore Medical Center in the Bronx she completed an MBA at Columbia University.

She is an internationally recognized expert in imaging economics. In May 2018 she was elected as the Chair of the American College of Radiology's Board of Chancellors, the first woman to hold this office. She was until 2013 Managing Partner of multispecialty medical group on Long Island, NY. In 2014 she joined the faculty at Weill Cornell Medicine in New York City. As well as her clinical practice there she served as Chief Strategy Officer and Chief Contracting Officer for the Weill Cornell Physician Organization's more than 1600 members. Since 2017 she has taught in the combined Weill Cornell Medicine and Cornell SC Johnson School of Business EMBAMS in Healthcare Leadership. In September 2021 she was appointed as Senior Associate Dean for Clinical Affairs.

She is a member of the board of NextGen Healthcare (NXGN) and from 2014-2021 served as a Non-Executive Director of IDA Ireland, the national foreign direct investment agency.

Her published work has focused on payment models for imaging, most recently a bundled payment for breast cancer screening. Recently she has focused on the impact of Artificial Intelligence on Medical Imaging and has spoken at the Turing Institute and to the WHO Focus Group on AI in Healthcare on this topic.
